Profile

I am a well spoken, polite and well presented individual. A recent graduate from Transport Design at Coventry University, I work well in a team and have the initiative to carry out projects and tasks on my own. I am a sociable character and am confident with public speaking.

Education

2009 – 2013: COVENTRY UNIVERSITY, SCHOOL OF ART AND DESIGN

Master of Design in Transport Design: 2:1 with Honours

Four year MDes course with Personal Development Planning.

Final Project: Designed a low impact public transport vehicle and infrastructure system for the historic urban environment.

2002 – 2009: SALESIAN SCHOOL, CHERTSEY

A2: French, Product Design, English Language

AS: French, Product Design, English Language & Italian.

GCSE: 10 (A* - C) French, Italian, English Literature, History, English Language, Religious Studies, Mathematics, Graphics, Science.

Excellence in Foreign Modern Languages Prize 2007

Skills

I have a keen interest in all aspects of design and during my first year at University I progressed with both manual renderings and computer aided design programs such as Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign & Sketch-Up. In the second year I learned the basics of Autodesk Alias Automotive and worked with Faber & Chavant clays. I have also been introduced to aerodynamics.

I can understand French fluently and speak it to a good level of conversation. I also have a moderate level of spoken Italian.

I am computer literate and can use both Mac and PC, and have a good understanding of desktop publishing software including Word, Pages and Keynote, and a basic knowledge of spreadsheet programmes such as Excel.

Current Interests

I enjoy listening to music, watching films and learning about new technological developments in both consumer electronics and transport, including automation in cars. I am also a keen model maker and have a substantial collection of model classic cars. I enjoy traveling and have visited much of France and Great Britain, as well as Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Egypt and the United States of America.

Experience

European Waterways, France 2014 - Present

During the summer season I am working as a deckhand and tour guide onboard the Anjodi, an exclusive hotel-barge cruising along the Canal du Midi.

HMV, Staines, Middlesex 2013 - 2014

From November 2013 to February 2014 I worked as a Seasonal Temp at a local branch of HMV as a sales assistant specialising in classic rock and pop.

Freelance Photographer, 2012 - Present

Since 2012 I have been working as a freelance photographer and reporter for Classic & Sports Car magazine's web newsfeed, covering classic car shows around the country as well as working for private clients internationally. To date I have had four stories published online and one printed in the magazine.

Orckid Design & Marketing Ltd, Staines, Middlesex 2011

During the first term of my third year, I worked alongside the team again to gain experience and professional advice about my work and corporate identity.

Royal Holloway University of London, Egham, Surrey 2010 - 2013

During the summers while at university I have worked at Royal Holloway University of London during both the graduation and fresher's weeks with Customer Services helping cars park in car-parks closest to their destinations and helping visitors to the campus with information and guiding them in the right direction.

Farfafouilles, Strasbourg, France 2008

As part of my French A-Level, I worked abroad for a week in a shop specialising in first editions of comic books such as TinTin and Asterix. I worked behind the counter and helped customers with their enquiries.

Orckid Design & Marketing Ltd, Staines, Middlesex 2007

I was part of a design and marketing team for a week. I was given the opportunity to use Photoshop from an Apple Mac and work with the team, to do the design and marketing of their 2007 Vienna Sales Conference. Towards the end of the work experience they also helped me produce a brand identity and create a company, which I have now based my website "Price Designs" on. Throughout the placement I worked as part of the team and was involved in meetings and discussions regarding the design and type face of banners and posters for the Sales Conference.

Other Qualifications

Grade 5 Piano

Grade 3 Clarinet

I hold a full and clean driving license.
